GoAir inducts new aircraft; expands ops

New Delhi, Jun 26

Low-cost carrier, GoAir on Friday announced launch of two direct flights from Bangalore to Delhi and Mumbai, as it inducts the eighth new aircraft into its fleet. With the addition of two new connections from Bangalore to Delhi and return, and Bangalore-Mumbai and return, the total number of weekly flights operated by the airline would be 377, an airline spokesperson said.

The airline has recently inducted its eighth new Airbus-A320 aircraft, after induction of two new planes in March and April, which has made GoAir to have the youngest fleet with average age of around seven months.

"Our brand new A320 strikes the right note for our monsoon travel season. Bangalore will now serve as a host to new connections with two major metros as it will provide the customers with the ease of flying direct flights from Bangalore-Delhi and Bangalore-Mumbai and back," said Jeh Wadia, MD, GoAir. The new connections would now have four flights at different time slots from Bangalore-Delhi and back. PTI
