Lucknow, Sept. 21

Low-cost airline GoAir on Tuesday said flights to Lucknow, a new addition to its network, will start from October 2.

"GoAir will now provide the customers with non stop daily flights from Delhi-Lucknow with the best frequency among its competitors," CEO GoAir,

Mr Kaushik Khona, told reporters here.

Mr Khona said there would be one flight from Lucknow. He added that on the same day October 2 services would also start from Pune and Leh.

The company will offer cheapest fares on the new destinations as introductory offer, he added.
